Starlink introduces the next generation of high-speed in-flight Wi-Fi

Beginning in the first quarter of 2027, passengers on Singapore Airlines will be able to enjoy a new high-speed Wi-Fi experience on board. Gradually, Starlink's satellite-powered broadband service will be deployed on long-haul aircraft such as the Airbus A380, A350-900 (LH), and A350-900 Ultra Long Range (ULR).

With more than 10,000 satellites at its disposal, Starlink can provide aircraft with multi-gigabit connectivity through its Aero Terminal, with each antenna supporting speeds of up to 1 Gbps. This means that customers in all cabin classes will enjoy faster, smoother, and uninterrupted connectivity from take-off to landing.
